The Zagato TZ3 No. 9 of 9 was ordered by Dr. and Mrs. Santilli in a rather unexpected way during a courtesy visit on September 12, 2012, to their friends Andrea and Marella Zagato at their factory in Milan. Dr. and Mrs. Santilli became so fascinated by the beauty of the automobile, as well as by its symbolic integration of some of the best American automotive technology with some of the best Italian style, that signed the contract for the purchase of the TZ3 N 9 during the short visit itself .

Zagato created these 9 limited edition coupes to celebrate Alfa's 100th anniversary. The streamlined, retro reminiscent carbon fiber body is layered atop a Dodge Viper ACR platform with 8.6 Liters V10 engine. The TZ3 carries the traditional Alfa Romeo badge with serpent and 1925 Grand Prix champion's wreath. The faired-in headlights, the tail design and the well known "double bubble" roof are reminiscent of the TZ1 and TZ2 models that placed the Zagato marque in the history of racing.

The Dodge Viper ACR is the street version of the ACR race Viper that achieved the best time in the Nurburgring, Germany, over Porches, Ferrari, Lamborghini, Lotus and other cars. engine was further modified by Zagato and is indicated as having 710 HP.

The TZ3 No. 9 of 9 was personalized by the Zagato for the Santillis who selected for the exterior color that of the "Florida sky", blue chiaro, and selected for the interior leather crema to complement the beauty of the exterior view.

The interior and the engine of the automobile have been personalized by the Zagato factory for the Santilli's with the symbol "MNGA" of the stock of Magnegas Corporation, founded by the Santilli's and currently traded at NASDAQ.

Following the signature of the contract on September 2012, the TZ3 9 was delivered via air cargo to the Santilli's in Florida at the end of February 2013. The automobile was then shipped following a special invitation to the 2013 Amelia Island Concourse d'Elegance where the automobile received an Invitational Award and the participation to the parade of special car during the event.

Subsequently, the TZ3 was shown at the 2014 Fort de Soto Park Meeting of the Alfa Romeo Club, Florida Section, where it received the Best of Show Award.

Currently, the TZ3 is scheduled to be shown by Joe Pellegrino at his Festival of Speed event, in Orlando, December 7, 2014
